

SUMMER WATERCOLOR PAINTING COURSE

Lesson preparation for Waldorf teachers

July 15 - 20, 2019: in Harlemville, NY
July 28 - Aug. 2, 2019 in Santa Monica, CA

In the annual intensive Painting Course taught by Gail McManus, participants experience a unique approach to painting with children of Grades 1 - 12. This approach is based on specific indications given by Rudolf Steiner to teachers of the first Waldorf schools. The course provides a solid foundation for creating meaningful, satisfying painting lessons which inform the students' well-being and creative capacities in all areas of learning.

During the Painting Course, each teacher receives individual guidance regarding painting motifs associated with the class they will teach in the coming school year. Teachers of all levels of painting experience find the Painting Course refreshing and highly supportive.

"Gail is a gifted artist - a former class teacher at Rudolf Steiner and an art teacher and class teacher at various Waldorf schools internationally and in North America. Her training in art was in Dornach. Please distribute her flyers in your school and programs." - Carol Bartges, AWSNA delegate
