

The Anthroposophical Society in America

In case you missed the latest Eastern Region Video Newsletter on September 14, it is now available below.

We experienced a rich and warm evening, ranging from 'thirsting souls', souls who are willing to travel 6 hours to participate in an anthroposophical event, to an "embarrassment of riches," where one has to make choices due to the overwhelming offerings in the community.

We heard from Helene Burkart, Dorothy Hinkle, and Bob & Betty Hare, the few thirsting souls from the Auburn Alabama Study Group, AL.

Patrice Maynard shared about the riches of the community around the Berkshire-Taconic Branch, NY.

Cynde Reilly gave an overview about the work of the Anthroposophical Society in Greater Boston, Andrew Linnell reported on the recent conference at Mystech, Dave Mansur shared about the group work in Cape Ann, John Schuchardt from the House of Peace gave an update on the work with the refugees from Afghanistan.

During that time, they offered their insights into the following questions:

- How do you work with and involve the School of Spiritual Science and the wider anthroposophical movement?
- How do you foster a relationship with the national office?
- What role does your branch/group fulfill in your community?
- How is anthroposophy fostered in your branch/group?
- What are your future plans?

Again, thank you to all the presenters and everyone who was able to participate!
